

Crystal Quick Reference

Atlantisite

A combination of Serpentine and Stichtite. It has the properties of both crystals in addition to those additional properties listed below. It comes from one place on the Earth, Stichtite Hill in Zeehan Tasmania. Also called Tasmanite.

It is a crystal of emotional healing.

This crystal helps to harmonize the energies of the heart and crown chakras. As these energies work together in harmony wonderful things happen. We become more aware of how our actions, words, etc. interact with others. As our awareness of others grows it encourages compassion, it can help to end arguments and disputes, to more deeply understand the idea of love of yourself and others.

Atlantisite helps to bring into the present the energies of Lemuria, Atlantis and Mu - especially the healing energies.

It can help retrieve information about past lives.
