Chrysoprase

Chrysoprase is a stone of businesses success. It increases good fortune and prosperity.

It is also a stone of balance. It helps to balance the masculine/feminine and Yin/Yang energies.

This crystal is an amazing manifestation of the "green ray" - a special divine healing energy. It helps to align our energies with that of the divine allowing us to resonate with divine truths. As these truths fill our being, it helps to heal our soul and our heart. As these heal we can find relief from depression and anxiety. It is a wonderful crystal to help with forgiveness. It can also help open us up to divine love, self love, and love of others.

As the divine truth fills our beings, the connection between our heart chakra, third eye, crown and solar plexus chakras will be strengthened. The communication between these chakras helps to bring about many wonderful changes.

This is a wonderful crystal for helping to get rid of negative thoughts and emotions. As these emotions that are holding us back are either released or transformed it can help the wearer become more positive ... happier .. hopeful ... courageous ... less irritable. The energies of this crystal can help to mend a broken heart after a bad breakup. It also can help people to become more confident thus releasing feelings of inferiority. It can also help with those who are self absorbed, over confident, or those who suffer from a superiority complex.

Excellent crystal to help restore eyesight and helps release energies associated with other eye problems. It can help the immune system. It also works to relieve gout. Very good for regulating the heat within the body as well as balancing the fire energies inside a person. Fertility problems may be aided by using this crystal in both men and women.
