

Crystal Quick Reference

Flint

Flint is a variety of Chalcedony and thus has all the prosperities of that crystal in addition to other properties.

Flint is a Seeker Transformer. A Seeker crystal is one in which the molecules align in a hexagonal pattern. A hexagon is made of two triangles. The triangular alignment will help to focus your desires, intent and effort. It can also point you to the path that you seek. Transformer crystals are oxides ... ones where a less stable element becomes more stable when combined with oxygen. As the name suggests, these crystals are excellent in transforming energy and thought.

It is an excellent crystal to help find a way to transform part of your life into a more desired state. Excellent for any type of transitional period such as switching jobs, dealing with loss/grief, new relationships and beginnings.

Excellent crystal to help with severing ties to problems and distressing situations.

Very useful crystal in protection and to help keep away negative energy from haunted locations. Must have crystal for ghost hunters.

It can help bring strength (physical, mental, emotional, spiritual) during times of conflict with other people.

The Ancient Greeks believed that flint could help guard against nightmares.

Banded Flint is also known as Polish diamond and is rarer than diamonds. It is the most precious form of flint.

This crystal is excellent for those who have a garden and is often called the "Gardener's Stone".

Helps with communication and is often carried by people having to speak in public or to groups.

Crystal Quick Reference

Flint

Flint helps to align the etheric body and template with the physical body which can help the body return to a state of wellness.

Excellent crystal for working with the kidneys.

Chakras: Root, Sacral, Solar Plexus, Heart, Throat, Third Eye, Crown.