

Crystal Quick Reference

Jade

Emperor's stone. Promotes serenity and peacefulness. Useful in money spells. Useful in calming and tranquility spells. Can be used in weather magick to promote rain and control storms. Can help harmonize dysfunctional relationships.

Jade is a symbol of good luck, money and wealth. It is considered a stone of longevity. It helps instill courage. It helps to cultivate wisdom and temper justice with mercy. It helps with emotional balance, love, fidelity, humility and peace. It helps one to recognize opportunities where generosity is needed. It has a gentle and steady healing energy which is a blend of the masculine and feminine energy. It can help you rid yourself of negative thoughts, dispel negative energy. It helps the heart in both the physical and spiritual sense. It is a protective stone. Jade connects us to the energies of Mother Earth as well as enhances our physical instincts.

In Chinese folk medicine, Jade is used for work on the lungs, heart, thymus, immune system, kidneys. It helps to remove toxins in the blood as well as nervous system.

In Feng Shui, it is used in positive directions to encourage longevity and a good life. When placed in the center of an area it helps to promote balance and harmony. When placed in the Northeast it promotes Wisdom. If placed in the Southwest it helps with issues of love and partnership - always use a pair of Jade objects in the Southwest as opposed to one or three.

Chakras: Root, Sacral, Solar Plexus, Heart