Moldavite

Fifteen to twenty million years ago, a large meteorite shower struck the Earth in the region of what is now Moldau, Czechoslovakia. When the meteors hit the Earth a huge amount of silica (sand), dirt and other materials were super heated to liquid state, hurled into the air and then solidified as they fell back to the planet. The resulting crystal formations are what we now call Moldavite.

Moldavite is a stone of communication. It aids in cooperation and communication between those of extra-terrestrial origin and those born on the Earth. It emits a tremendous amount of energy that is particularly helpful to those who have incarnated on the Earth from other planetary system. It helps to ease “homesickness” as well as helping those other worldly beings to “fit in”. It enhances all psychic gifts. It helps to ease the process of transformation and is especially helpful in letting go of things or ideas that we “stuck in”. It helps to release all things that are not needed or holding back our growth .. old ideas, ways of thinking, etc.

When placed on the third eye, Moldavite helps to enhance cosmic communication.

Moldavite has an intense, “out of this world” energy!

Frequently, people report an intense surge of energy upon holding this crystal. Tingling sensations or feeling the subtle vibrations is also common. Some people have reported feeling a fluttering in the chest, hot flashes, nausea, dizziness, “spaced out” feeling when first holding or wearing Moldavite. It may take a few minutes to a few days to adjust to its energy. This is an excellent crystal for aiding in astral travel, communication with spirit guides and other higher beings. It is very helpful in use with past life regression. Moldavite can also assist in seeing the future. Many users of this crystal report an increase in intuitive ability when wearing or carrying this crystal. It can amplify your energy and/or feeling as well as the energy and/or feelings of those around you. If the amplification is too great and causing difficulties then carry a piece of hematite, black tourmaline, jet, or smoky quartz to help ground out the excess information/energy. When using Moldavite in healing work (other than Reiki or healing guided/directed by a higher spiritual being) be aware that it does amplify thoughts and emotions so you need to be healthy and balanced yourself when using it on others.

It can help you to manifest thoughts and ideas very quickly. When doing magical workings make sure that your mind is clear and that your intent is clearly focused on your goal. Stray thoughts may cause problems in your working.

Moldavite works exceptionally well with the heart chakra. When near the body it will help to remove energy blockages from all of the chakras. If you are having trouble opening your heart chakra or releasing bottled up emotions then this crystal is for you! Moldavite helps to develop unconditional love of yourself and of others.

In addition to the heart chakra, Moldavite also works well with the crown chakra to speed up spiritual growth. It can help solutions to problems become clearer. Epiphanies are not uncommon when working with this crystal. It can help you more quickly realize our purpose in life or your current purpose(s).

Moldavite often brings repressed emotions and situations to the surface so that they may be acknowledged and/or integrated into your conscious being – this will help spiritual, emotional and mental healing such as from traumatic experience. You may wish to combine with rose quartz, amethyst, Auralite 23 and orange celestial quartz when working through past traumatic events. The second degree mental/emotional symbol energies of Reiki are a great help if you are a Reiki practitioner.

Chakras: Energizes and removes energy blockages from all of the chakras. Works very well with the Heart, Third Eye and Crown.
